Query Questions

1. What are the details (name, phone number, address) of customers who have made purchases?

2. Find all customers who have made sales from a specific

3. Which stores have made max sales and what are their locations?

4. Identify customers with their details who have purchased from multiple stores

5. Determine the sales records that fall within a specific date range, including store and customer details.

6. Which 2 customers have made the highest quantity of purchases across all stores, and what are their details

7. Identify the top-selling store based on total quantity sold and include the store's location and manager's name

8. Finding top quantity purchasing customer from all store